

Announcement

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Karl Bimshas
Company Name: Karl Bimshas Consulting
Telephone Number: 619-497-2670

Blunt Leadership Essays

Leadership Development Consultant, Karl Bimshas launches a second collection of leadership essays, "So, I've Been Thinking Some More; Reflections on Leadership."

SAN DIEGO, CA - September 8, 2015 - "So, I've Been Thinking Some More; Reflections on Leadership" is leadership development consultant, Karl Bimshas's second book of leadership essays. This set of observations are often blunt and always inspirational, with an emphasis on taking action.

Busy professionals will be stung by and then enjoy the topics covered by Bimshas. Sample titles include, "Why Does Your Follow-up Suck?", "Stop Pretending You Want High Performance" and "Ask Your Direct Reports Their Opinion and They May Hate You Less."

This release joins a family of business and inspiration books penned by Bimshas. It includes more thought-starters, calls to action and easy to read short essays centered on seeing the world and your leadership differently. Quick snackable insights are evenly distributed among assessments, and longer ideas designed to challenge the reader's perspective on leadership, goal setting and personal development.

So, I've Been Thinking Some More; Reflections on Leadership
Publication Date: September 5, 2015
Available on Amazon
ASIN: B014ZRNUAU

About Karl Bimshas

As an Executive Coach, Karl has helped many companies and individuals improve relationships and strengthen leadership skills. As an author, he has written a successful line of business books that feature valuable advice on how to thrive in today's workplace.

For more information about So, I've Been Thinking Some More; Reflections on Leadership, please visit

<http://www.bimshasconsulting.com/new-book/> or contact

Karl Bimshas at 619-497-2670.

###

KARL BIMSHAS
CONSULTING